

Guildford Coach Profile – Andy Hemmings

GJIHC Assistant Head Coach, U13s & U15s Team
Coach & Player Coach for the Phoenix

In his fourth full year of coaching, Andrew will lead the under 13s, 15s and Phoenix again for the 2018-19 season. He brings a wealth of experience to the junior club, representing Great Britain at under 18s and winning gold in division 2, playing for the Guildford Flames in the EPL for 11 years and 3 years with other clubs. Andrew is also a power skating coach and is the owner of Allstar Hockey Academy, which run hockey schools and shooting clinics that all take place at Guildford Spectrum.

Last season Andrew lead our new Guildford Phoenix team to a 6th place finish in the NIHL 2 league. The team qualified for the playoffs and made it to the final four weekend which was an impressive achievement for the first season in the league. He was also voted 'Coach of the Year' from the @482days awards which was voted on by the other teams in the league.

With the junior teams, he pushed the under 13s to a 4th place finish in which was a very hard division with the new tier system put in place. His under 15s finished in second place and as a result went to the Nationals in May just losing out to Nottingham in the semi-finals with a 3-2 overtime loss.

Andrew is also the Head coach of South West under 11s. In the 2018 Conference tournament he led his team to win the tournament for the second time in succession. Andrew and his coaching team also won the coaching award at the 2018 Conference tournament.
